About Marquette Elder's Advisor

This law review is produced by Marquette University Law School student staff members and is a publication of Marquette University Law School.

FOR AUTHORS

The Elder's Advisor editorial board welcomes articles of merit in the broad field of elder law, including health law and disability law. The Elder's Advisor seeks to publish succinct and readable articles of interest to scholars, policy makers, and practitioners. Accessibility is key to our effort to create dialogue and progress in elder issues. Important articles may, for example, explore points of philosophy or policy in detail, or may encapsulate an issue for non-specialists. Text and footnotes generally do not exceed forty manuscript pages.

Articles accepted from authors in related disciplines, including but not limited to medicine, psychology, psychiatry, social work, and finance, will appear according to legal citation forms.

Manuscripts should be sent to the address below or submitted electronically to elderlaw@marquette.edu. Each manuscript should include double-spaced text with footnotes, and should clearly identify the author and contact information. Upon acceptance, an electronic copy must be provided by the author by email or disk.

COPYRIGHT PERMISSIONS

The Elder's Advisor generally holds copyrights to published articles. However, permission is given for authors or others to utilize Elder's Advisor text upon notice to the editors and appropriate attribution on any copy distributed.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Elder's Advisor is published twice annually in Fall and Spring. The Subscription price is $40 annually, and may be forwarded to the attention of Business Editor at the address below.
