SYMPOSIUM

IS THE WISCONSIN CONSTITUTION OBSOLETE?

INTRODUCTION

FORWARD: REAPPRAISING THE WISCONSIN CONSTITUTION
Michael K. McChrystal ................................................................. 407

OVERVIEW

AN OVERVIEW OF THE CONFERENCE
Jack Stark .......................................................................................... 411

LEAD ARTICLE

IS THE WISCONSIN STATE CONSTITUTION OBSOLETE?
TOWARD A TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY, FUNCTIONALIST ASSESSMENT
Robert F. Williams ............................................................................. 425

ARTICLES

ENVIRONMENTALISM AND THE WISCONSIN CONSTITUTION
Jason J. Czarnezki ............................................................................... 465

TAX AND EXPENDITURE LIMITATIONS AND ECONOMIC GROWTH
Steven Deller & Judith I. Stallmann ................................................ 497

WHAT IS “FAIR” PARTISAN REPRESENTATION, AND HOW CAN IT BE CONSTITUTIONALIZED? THE CASE FOR A RETURN TO FIXED ELECTION DISTRICTS
James A. Gardner ............................................................................ 555
“NEITHER PEACE NOR UNIFORMITY”: LOCAL GOVERNMENT IN THE WISCONSIN CONSTITUTION
Michael E. Libonati ........................................................................................................593

STATE POLICY CONSEQUENCES FOR WISCONSIN’S SCHOOL DISTRICTS: SPENDING DISPARITIES, FINANCE FORMULAS, AND REVENUE RESTRICTIONS
Craig Maher, Mark Skidmore & Bambi Statz .....................................................................621

WISCONSIN’S CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT HABIT: A DISEASE OR A CURE?
Joseph A. Ranney ............................................................................................................667

COMMENTARY

ON WISCONSIN: SOME FRIENDLY CONSTITUTIONAL ADVICE
William A. Niskanen ........................................................................................................701

COMMENTS ON WILLIAM A. NISKANEN’S ON WISCONSIN: SOME FRIENDLY CONSTITUTIONAL ADVICE
Andrew Reschovsky ........................................................................................................713

ESSAY

CONSTITUTIONAL ISOLATIONISM AND THE LIMITS OF STATE SEPARATION OF POWERS AS A BARRIER TO INTERSTATE COMPACTS
Jim Rossi ..........................................................................................................................721

COMMENT

WISCONSIN’S CHIEF LEGISLATOR: THE GOVERNOR’S PARTIAL VETO AUTHORITY AND THE NEW TIPPING POINT
Benjamin W. Proctor .......................................................................................................739