ABOUT

MARQUETTE BENEFITS & SOCIAL WELFARE LAW REVIEW

This law review is produced by Marquette University Law School student staff members and is a publication of Marquette University Law School.

FOR AUTHORS

The Marquette Benefits & Social Welfare Law Review editorial board welcomes articles of merit in the broad field of employee benefits law, including ERISA employee benefits law, health law, disability law, and general welfare law (poverty, public interest, family, and elder law). The Law Review seeks to publish succinct and readable articles of interest to scholars, policy makers, and practitioners. Accessibility is key to our effort to create dialogue and progress in employee benefits and social welfare issues. Important articles may, for example, explore points of philosophy or policy in detail, or may encapsulate an issue for non-specialists.
