In Memoriam of Judge William Turner

Editorial Board

Follow this and additional works at: http://scholarship.law.marquette.edu/mulr

Part of the Law Commons

Repository Citation
Available at: http://scholarship.law.marquette.edu/mulr/vol3/iss3/2

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at Marquette Law Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Marquette Law Review by an authorized administrator of Marquette Law Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact megan.obrien@marquette.edu.
In Memoriam

There has passed from the Wisconsin Bar an eminent jurist and a respected judge in the person of the late Judge William Turner of the Circuit Court No. 5 of Milwaukee. It was with profound sympathy that the members of the Milwaukee Bar received the notice of his death.

Judge Turner was a splendid man and an honored citizen. He not only gained the trust and confidence of the people of the northeast section of the state, where he first began his law practice, but he is also to be admired for the keen interest that he took in educational matters. This was not only applicable to Milwaukee in particular, but he also served the state in matters pertaining to education. His was a full life spent on behalf of the citizens of the state.

It was in 1908 that Judge Turner was honored with a position on the bench in the Circuit Court, where he acted as a fair interpreter of the law. It was while he was performing the duties of his office that he first became ill, finally resulting in death.